It's over

Thank you to all the sponsors

Thank you to all the speakers

Thank you to all MCs

Thank you to Prometheus team & maintainers

Thank YOU!

With in-person restarting, and the supply chain issues, and people leaving the service industry, and prices through the roof, and everyone and their aunt trying to do in person again, and with people cancelling on us at the last minute, and things not arriving, and stuff not even being printed until after the conference, and printers getting colors completely wrong, and with me in the USA for a month....

It's been a lot

See you in Berlin in 2023!

The background features a light blue gradient with several concentric circles. A dotted line forms a circular path around the central text. There are also some small, scattered dots in blue, orange, and red.

Be excellent to each other

If you see trash, please take it with you.

There's a trashcan at the exit.

Thank You!
